UN passes resolution over easing financial restrictions on Af

NEW YORK: United Nations Security Council has passed resolution 2615 proposed by the United States and allowed money to flow to Afghanistan for humanitarian purposes, local media reported on Thursday. Based on the new resolution, the US will ease financial restrictions on Afghanistan for humanitarian purposes and will allow the Taliban official and their entities that are involved in the process, Khaama Press reported.

THE FALL OF 'PILLAR OF SHAME'

The statue marking Tiananmen Square massacre removed from the University of Hong Kong

AGENCIES
Hong Kong

Workers at the University of Hong Kong (HKU) removed the Tiananmen Massacre statue, widely known as the Pillar of Shame, on Wednesday, months after the university had said the statue must go.

This monument was created by a Danish artist in memory of those killed in the Tiananmen Square crackdown in Beijing in 1989.

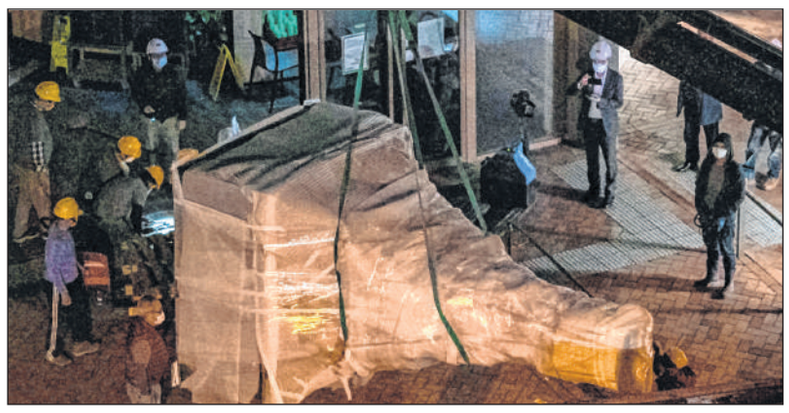
"The Council of the University of Hong Kong (HKU Council) made a decision at its meeting on December 22 (Wednesday) to remove a statue, widely known as the Pillar of Shame, from campus. The decision on the aged statue was based on external legal advice and risk assessment for the best interest of the University," the university said in a statement.

None of the parties has ever received permission from the university to display the statue on its campus. In this regard, the university has the right to take appropriate action at any time, according to the press release.

The university said that the decision had been made due to the potential safety issues resulting from the fragile statue and potential legal risks for the organization.

"Latest legal advice given to the University cautioned that the continued display of the statue would pose legal risks to the University based on the Crimes Ordinance enacted under the Hong Kong colonial government," the statement said.

Earlier this year, the university requested that the statue be removed for safekeeping. The educational organization will continue to receive legal advice on further actions with regard to the monument. Sophie Richardson, Human Rights Watch's China Director, said slammed the Chinese government for being afraid of a statute.



Workers move a section of the 'Pillar of Shame' towards a container at the University of Hong Kong (HKU) in Hong Kong on Thrusday.

SYMBOL OF HORROR

The 8-meter (26-foot) tall Pillar of Shame, which depicts 50 torn and twisted bodies piled on top of each other, was made by Danish sculptor Jens Galschiot to symbolize the lives lost during the bloody military crackdown on pro-democracy protesters in Beijing's Tiananmen Square on June 4, 1989

There is more than one Pillar of Shame. It is a series of works by Galschioet, all the same height and typically made of bronze, copper and concrete.

They have been erected in Hong Kong, Mexico and Brazil, and are designed to remind people of events to ensure they don't happen again.

The one in Hong Kong, which marks the Tiananmen crackdown, depicts a mass of torn and twisted bodies in a tall pile.

Galschioet has said the bodies symbolize the devaluation of the individual, and the sculpture expresses the pain and despair of what happened.

It was erected in Hong Kong in 1997 during an annual candlelight vigil to commemorate the event.

The text at the base of the sculpture reads, "The old cannot kill the young" in English and Chinese.

Later, the Pillar of Shame was exhibited at several universities in the city before being placed at the University of Hong Kong on a long-term basis.

India wants to see Myanmar's return to democracy: Shringla

AGENCIES
Naypyidaw

Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla has raised matters relating to India's security and emphasised New Delhi's interest in seeing Myanmar's return to democracy at earliest as he called on the Chairman, State Administrative Council and other senior representatives in the country.

Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla is in Myanmar on a two-day working visit, in the first such high-level outreach from India after Myanmar's military deposed the democratically-elected government of Aung San Suu Kyi in a coup on February 1. The powerful State Administration Council (SAC) is headed by General Min Aung Hlaing, who seized power in February.

India gives rice, wheat, vaccines

India has provided 10 lakh doses of 'Made in India' coronavirus vaccines and a grant of 10,000 tonnes of rice and wheat to Myanmar as part of its continued humanitarian support for the neighbouring country, the External Affairs Ministry said on Thursday. Shringla handed over the vaccines to the Myanmar Red Cross Society on Wednesday.

No new restrictions in UK before Christmas

AGENCIES / London

The British government said Thursday it won't introduce any new coronavirus restrictions until after Christmas, and called early studies on the severity of the omicron variant encouraging. Health Secretary Sajid Javid said two studies suggesting omicron carries a significantly lower risk of hospitalisation than the previously dominant delta strain was "encouraging news." But he said it was "not very clear yet...by how much that risk is reduced."

The UK Health Security Agency is due to publish new data on omicron later Thursday.

It follows two studies, from Imperial College London and Scottish researchers, that found patients with omicron were between 20% and 68% less likely to require hospital treatment than those with delta.

Data out of South Africa, where the variant was first detected, have also suggested omicron might be milder there. Scientists stress that even if the findings of these early studies hold up, any reductions in severity need to be weighed against the fact omicron spreads much faster than delta and is more able to evade vaccines.

Given those factors, the new variant could still overwhelm health systems because of the sheer number of infections. Confirmed coronavirus cases in the UK, where omicron is now dominant, have surged by almost 60% in a week. Britain's Conservative government this month reinstated rules requiring face masks in shops and ordered people to show proof of vaccination or a negative coronavirus test before entering nightclubs and other crowded venues in an attempt to slow omicron's spread.

Ireland to impose curbs after X'mas

DUBLIN: Northern Ireland will impose restrictions the day after Christmas to curb spread of Omicron, which now accounts for over 40% of Covid cases, Deputy First Minister of Northern Ireland Michelle O'Neill said. "The Executive has taken decision to protect people and protect the health service over the coming days and weeks," O'Neill said.

Biden: Will run for president in 2024 if in good health

WASHINGTON: US President Joe Biden has said that he will run for reelection in 2024 if he is in good health at the time. "Yes," he said when asked by host David Muir if he plans to run for reelection, in an interview aired Wednesday on ABC's World News Tonight, reported Xinhua news agency.

"But look, I'm a great respecter of fate. Fate has intervened in my life many, many times. If I'm in the health I'm in now, if I'm in good health, then in fact, I would run again," he said.

Putin urges West for security guarantees

AGENCIES / Moscow

Russian President Vladimir Putin urged the West on Thursday to move quickly to meet Russia's demand for security guarantees precluding NATO's expansion to Ukraine and the deployment of the military alliance's weapons there.

Speaking during a marathon annual news conference, the Russian leader welcomed talks with the US that are set to start in Geneva next month, but sternly warned that Moscow expects the discussion to produce quick results. "We have clearly and precisely let them know that any further NATO expansion eastward is unacceptable," Putin said.

Last week, Moscow submitted draft security documents demanding that NATO deny membership to Ukraine and other former Soviet countries and roll back the alliance's military deployments in Central and Eastern Europe.

"Is it us who are putting missiles near the US borders?" Putin said.

"No, it's the US who came to our home with their missiles. They are already on the threshold of our home. Is it some excessive demand not to place any offensive systems near our home?"

Moscow presented its demand amid soaring tensions over a Russian troop buildup near Ukraine that has stoked fears of a possible invasion.

US President Joe Biden warned Putin in a conference call earlier this month that Russia will face "severe consequences" if it attacks Ukraine.

China locks down Xi'an

BEIJING: China on Thursday shut down Xi'an, the capital city of the country's Shaanxi province in a bid to tackle the Covid-19 outbreak amid the growing global threat of Omicron variant across the world, local media reported.
